DOES IT PAY

To advertise a square honest proposition? We well know that the American public like to be humbugged, and jump at the chance to invest in a shady wild cat speculation, if there is an element of the "Get rich quick" possibility about it, but if you are asked to investigate a square and honest bargain, one that you can have undoubted reliability in, do you do it?

For the past five years I have advertised extensively that I could save you from 20 to 50 per cent on your Fire Insurance, as compared with the regular stock rates, and have repeatedly called your attention to my motto,

("Don't take my word for it, but Investigate.")

but very few have even asked me to explain in regard to it. Now I stand ready to show hundreds of actual results, of people that you well know, to substantiate my claim. Don't you want to see the proofs?

LOCAL GATHERINGS.

—Two carloads of Chinese passed through here on the early morning train last Wednesday en route to Hong Kong. They came from all parts of southern New England and were hastening to Vancouver to take the Empress of China of the Canadian Pacific line.

—The first almanac for 1908 to come to our desk is "The Old Farmers' Almanac," in its 116th edition. This is published by William Ware & Co., at Boston, and contains a fund of valuable information.

—An exhibit of ginseng in the window of Bingham's drug store attracts much attention as it is valued at $150 and was all collected in this vicinity. Wild ginseng is worth from $5 to $8 a pound and it is all exported to China for medicinal purposes. As an investment the growing of ginseng is more profitable than following the stock market though it takes about seven years to get a crop.

—The Summer street laundry has added to its plant a big mangle and are now thoroughly equipped to handle family and hotel work. The machine weighs five tons and is large enough to take a sheet from the extractor and deliver it in the fraction of a minute all ready to be folded.

—One of the attractions of the Murray Rostell Company which is playing at the Opera House all the week is Bertina, the man who breaks away from all fetters on the stage. Last night he extricated himself from a straight jacket and at 3 this afternoon he will be publicly handcuffed at the police station and then break away.

—The Star Entertainment Co. have engaged Frank O. French as singer.

—Olive Branch Lodge, D. of R., give a Halloween party, including supper and social at Odd Fellows Hall Thursday evening.

—The night trains were delayed over an hour night before last on account of a washout between Lyndonville and West Burke.

—W. O. Rocheleau returned from Granby Wednesday without a deer, but saw two herds each containing five does and plenty of deer tracks.

—Fifty photographic views of Norwegian scenery, from Christiansia to the North Cape, are on exhibition at the Athenaeum gallery until November 11.

—At the St. Johnsbury Hospital are Miss Jessie Cleveland, Morrisville; Mrs. F. H. English, Littleton; Mrs. C. E. Lovejoy, St. Johnsbury Center. The following have returned home, Charlotte Legendre and George D. Woods, both of this place.

—The new patients at Brightlook Hospital are Mrs. Ada Maxwell and Perley Johnson, St. Johnsbury. Allen Knight and Raymond Bean of this place have returned home.

—E. E. Galer has sold his house in Paddock's Village to O. N. Drew.

—The police had three cases of intoxication the past week. Two of the parties are serving a ten days' sentence in jail and the other paid the usual fine and costs.

—The Boston & Maine carpenters are building a large water tank at the depot to replace the smaller one which will be razed when the other is completed. The new one will have a capacity of 55,000 gallons and the staves of which it is made are 16 feet long.

—Samuel Thomas, who was charged with larceny of the moving picture apparatus of the Star Entertainment Company, was discharged by the court Thursday as the evidence at the hearing showed that he was a partner in the enterprise and had committed no crime. Mr. Thomas was represented at the hearing by R. W. Simonds and Marshall Montgomery, and is now employed at the scale works.

Goddard Wins at Football.

The Academy eleven lost to the team from Goddard Seminary on the campus Monday afternoon in the hardest fought game on record by the narrow margin of 5 to 0. In spite of the steady down-pour throughout the day the interest in this long-looked for contest between the two great rivals was such that the largest crowd of the season, including townspeople as well as the Academy students, turned out to encourage the boys and for two hours stood in the mud and rain and cheered themselves hoarse in what proved to be a vain effort. The visitors outwitted the local team by at least 10 pounds to a man and this fact had no small bearing on the result, as most of their gains were made by bucking the line. Benedict was a bulwark of strength in the pivotal position for Goddard and tipped the scale at 285 pounds. Goddard's back field was also heavy and was without doubt the fastest seen here this fall. But for all that the visitors blanked the locals, a comparison of the score of two weeks ago at Barre, in a game which was played under about the same weather conditions as those prevailing in Monday's game with the score of this game, will show even a casual observer how the Academy team has improved.

The game was delayed time and again by arguments over the penalizing decisions rendered by Mr. Sprague and richly deserved by the Goddard eleven, who tried at every stage of the game the questionable tactics which prevailed at Barre in the last game. Under the circumstances, and as the game was played, the visitors without doubt earned their victory, but the generally expressed opinion of the fans is that on a decent day the Academy team could hold their opponents just as well and stand a chance of winning out on their numerous trick plays in which they have shown themselves past masters, but which had to be shelved Monday. The features of the game were the beautiful forward pass by Hill to Gibson, Walker's strong and aggressive line bucking and the speedy work of Goddard's backs.

Hastings-Carr Wedding.

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place on Saturday at high noon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Carr in Summerville, when her daughter, Miss Nellie J. Carr, was united in marriage to S. Harold Hastings of San Antonio, Texas, only the immediate families being present. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal party entered the parlor, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Frost. The bride was attended by Miss Sadie Carrick, and the groom by Willard Goss of Washington. Arthur Carr acted as usher and Miss Eugenia Scott presided at the piano. The bride was daintily gowned in a white dress trimmed with ermine and carried brides' roses. The bridesmaid wore a white nun's veiling and had pink carnations. Her gift from the bride was an emerald pin and the best man received a carabuncle from the groom. After the ceremony a delicious turkey dinner was served by S. D. Atwood to 14 members. The rooms were tastefully decorated with evergreens and chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Hastings left on the afternoon train for Laconia, Boston, New York and Washington, and will make their home in San Antonio, Texas. The bride's going away gown was a light gray with hat to match. Mrs. Hastings graduated from the Academy in the class of 1900, studied in the New England Conservatory of Music and has been the efficient organist at Grace Methodist church for a few years. Mr. Hastings graduated in the same class, taking a business course in the commercial college here the year following. He has now a very good position as superintendent of the Experiment Station at San Antonio, Texas. They were the recipient of many beautiful presents including cut glass, china, linen, pictures and rugs.

Woman's Club Meeting.
